

Table of Content

Chapter 1 Introduction	1
1.1 The Copenhagen School and Its Theoretical Turn	3
1.2 Securitization Theory	8
1.3 The Limits of Securitization and Efforts to Move Beyond	13
1.4 Desecuritization	17
1.5 Chapter Outline.....	19
Chapter 2 Research Framework	21
2.1 From "Actor to Actors" to Relating Actors.....	22
2.2 Securitization and Conflict Escalation.....	26
2.3 Power and Desecuritization.....	31
2.4 Research Question and Hypothesis.....	34
2.5 Methodology.....	37
2.6 Research Limitations	38
Chapter 3 Case A: Securitization of China-US Relations - South China Sea	41
3.1 China-US Relations in the Post-Cold War Period	41
3.2 Background: The South China Sea Dispute	44
3.3 Securitizing the South China Sea and China-US Relations	47
3.4 Crisis: The USS Lassen Incident, October 27, 2015	52
3.5 The Aftermath: Desecuritization of the South China Sea?.....	57
3.6 Prospects for Desecuritizing the South China Sea and China-US Relations.....	65
Chapter 4 Case B: Securitization of China-Japan Relations - East China Sea ...	71
4.1 China-Japan Relations in the Post-Cold War Period	71

4.2 Background: The Diaoyu/Senkaku Islands Dispute	74
4.3 Securitizing the Diaoyu/Senkaku Islands Dispute and China-Japan Relations	77
4.4 Crisis: Nationalization of the Senkaku/Diaoyu Islands, September 10, 2012	82
4.5 The Aftermath: Desecuritization of the East China Sea?	88
4.6 Prospects for Desecuritizing the East China Sea and China-Japan Relations.....	95
4.7 A Window of Opportunity Lost?	98
Chapter 5 Conclusion: Reconsidering Securitization and Desecuritization....	103
5.1 Rethinking Securitization	103
5.2 Rethinking Desecuritization.....	108
5.3 Securitization and Foreign Policy Analysis	112
5.4 Directions for Future Research	114
References	117

Figures

1.1 The Securitization Process	10
2.1 Securitization in the Ukrainian Crisis	24
2.2 Perceived Relative Power and Strategies for Desecuritization	33
2.3 Research Framework – Securitization and Desecuritization	35
3.1 The South China Sea Dispute	44
3.2 China-US Strategies in the South China Sea	62
4.1 The Diaoyu/Senkaku Islands Dispute	75
4.2 China-US Strategies in the East China Sea.....	93

Tables

2.1 Stages of Conflict Escalation	29
5.1 Securitization Models Compared.....	104