

Lecture Notes for Mathematical Physics II

Shang-Yung Wang

Department of Physics, Tamkang University

Mathematical Physics II is the second of a two-course sequence required for sophomore physics majors. It introduces some of the mathematical techniques frequently used in the analysis of a wide variety of physical problems. Topics include Sturm-Liouville theory, special functions, and partial differential equations.

January 2020